PROJECTS

Breast Cancer Detection

- Trained a CNN model to detect breast cancer from images, classifying results as Benign, Malignant, or Normal.
- Handled all the data prep using NumPy, Pandas, and Pillow before feeding it into the model.
- Wrapped the whole thing in a Django web app so anyone can upload an image and get a quick prediction.
- Built it end-to-end — from training the model to deploying it as a usable tool.

Spam Detection Model

- Built a spam detection model that classifies messages as spam or not spam, achieving 98% accuracy.
- Trained and saved the model using Pickle for easy reuse without retraining.
- Wrote a separate script that loads the saved model, takes user input, and returns instant predictions.
